Bush, Taylor get majority in Hancock, take home wins

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Presidential Candidate John F. Kerry conceded the 2004 Presidential Election to incumbent George W. Bush on Wednesday morning, marking the end of another close race.

The state of Mississippi was called for Bush fairly early in the night. According to unofficial poll results, the distribution of the votes in Hancock County was roughly 71% in favor of Bush, and 29% in favor of Kerry.

Deputy Circuit Clerk

Karen Ruhr said she expected her office to have official totals by Monday of next week.

One Hancock County woman tried to tip these scales by voting twice, and then calling into a New Orleans talk radio show to discuss her actions.

Unfortunately, the radio show is also picked up in Bay St. Louis, and the woman now faces potential federal charges for voter fraud.

A proposed ordinance to regulate sexually oriented businesses in Hancock County will take effect in the next 60 to 90 days, said board attorney Ronnie Artigues. Supervisors authorized advertisement of the proposed ordinance at Monday's board meeting. It will be adopted by the Board of Supervisors after a 30 day comment period, which will begin on Sunday.

Supervisors will look at all written comments and make any needed changes before adopting the final draft, Artigues said. Thirty days later, the ordinance will go on the books. Two applications for strip clubs

Why are truck loads of toxic waste being brought to the Pecan Grove municipal landfill in Pass Christian from a site in Jackson County? Residents of both areas began to question the operation when the trucks began a surprise cleanup at the site of an old creosote plant that later became the site of the Gautier Oil Company.

Hancock County deputies joined in a high speed chase on Interstate 10 initiated by Slidell Police early Tuesday morning, according to Sheriff Steve Garber. "On Tuesday at 12:42 a.m., while on routine patrol on Gause Blvd. at I-10, K-9 Officer Sgt. Kevin Simon observed a speeding pickup east bound on Gause. The driver made a left turn and Sgt.

Simon observed the vehicle's passenger door swing open and a female was seen frantically waving her arms to get attention." Slidell Police Capt. Bob Callahan, Public Information officer said in a news release.

Callahan continued, "Sgt. Simon went after the vehicle and activated his emergency lights, in an attempt to stop the vehicle.

Bay Council approves annexation plan

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

The Bay St. Louis City Council on Tuesday gave the green light to a long-awaited annexation plan that will effectively double the square mileage of the city and increase its population by around 50 percent.

Council members unanimously approved the annexation services and facilities plan at their regularly-scheduled meeting Tuesday.

"This is the final, revised version of the plan," Bay Mayor Eddie Favre said yesterday, adding that it could still change before going to court on Nov. 29 if the Bay Council can reach an agreement with the Waveland Board of Aldermen.

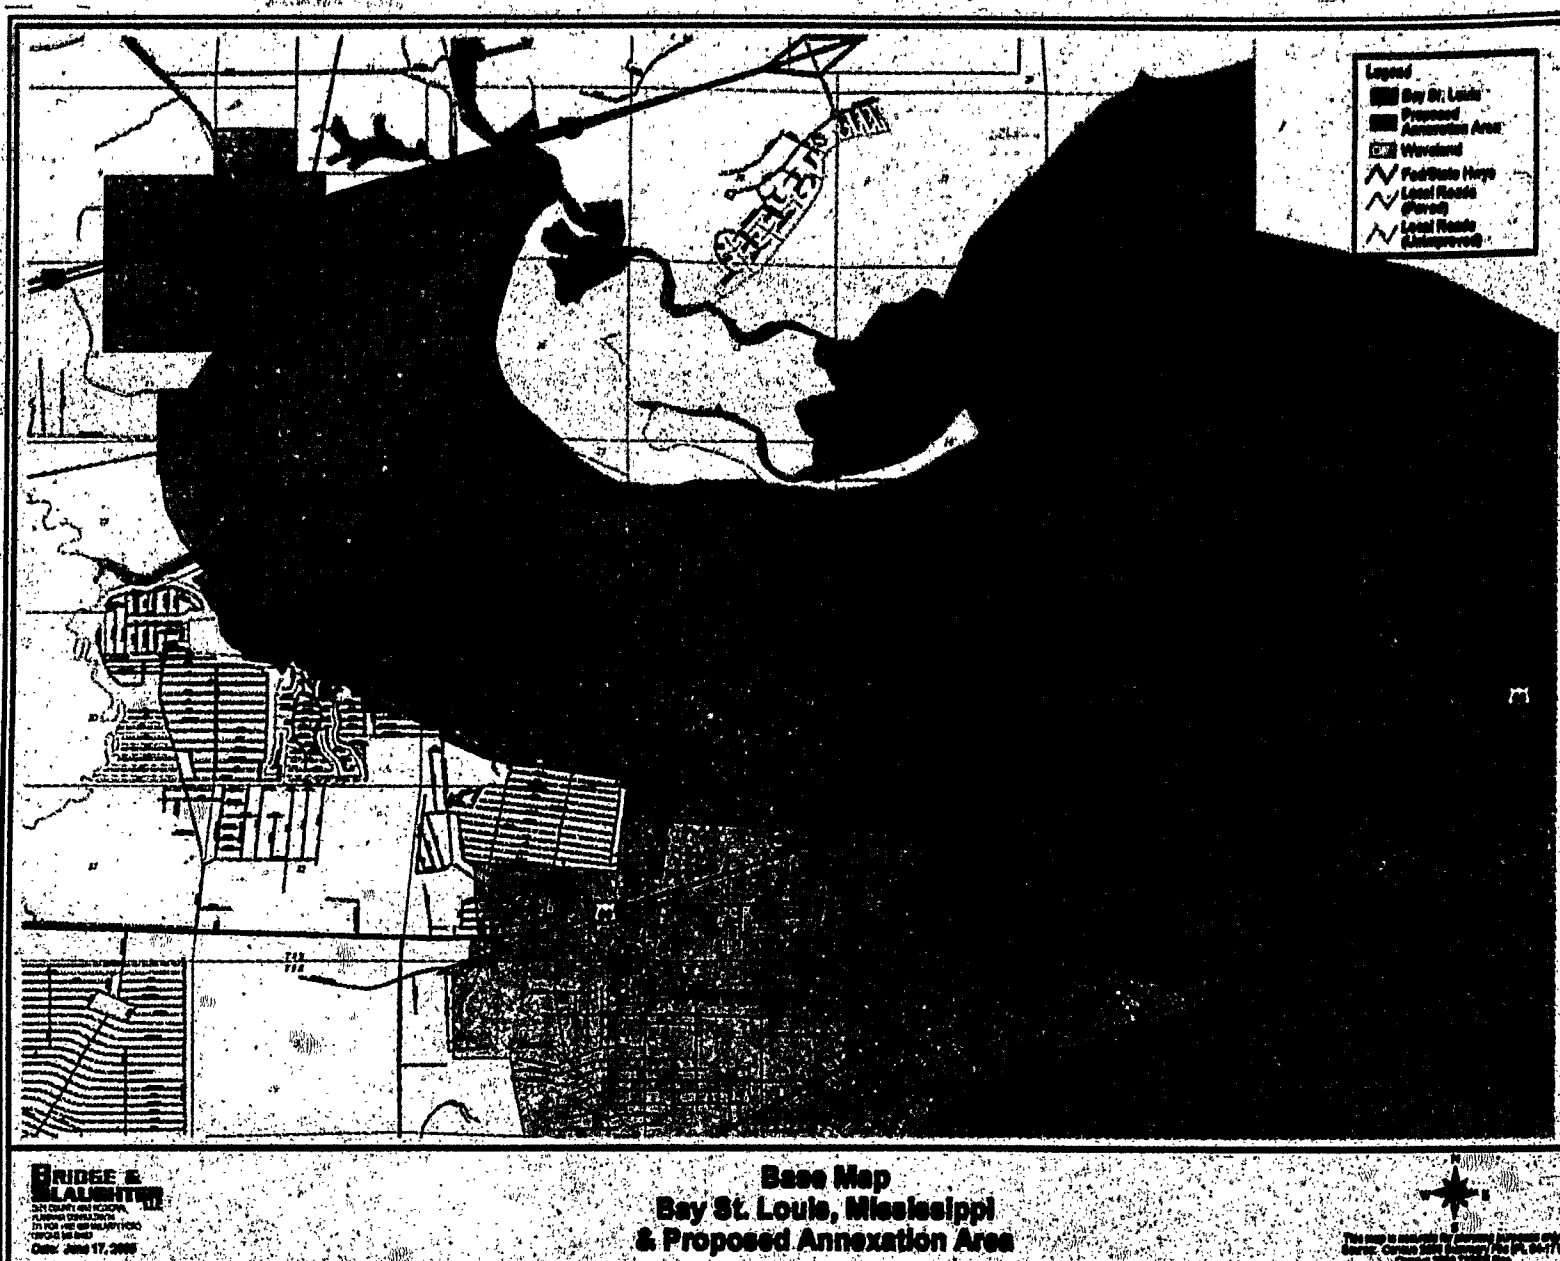

Both Bay St. Louis and Waveland filed annexation cases in Hancock Chancery Court in June 2003. The two cases were consolidated as one, since they largely deal with the same property. In both plans, the cities are hoping to enlarge their boundaries along Highway 603, taking in residential and commercial properties. In many places, the two annexation attempts overlap — including the crown jewel of contention: Lands at the interchange of I-10 and Highway 603.

Bay St. Louis wants both sides of the business corridor, while Waveland is asking only for the west side of most of the corridor. A major area of contention falls near the I-10 corridor where several large developments are slated for construction. Both cities want portions of the corridor on both sides of Hwy. 603.

An attempt to compromise by dividing up the properties was made last July, resulting in two closed meetings between the Waveland Board of Aldermen and the Bay St. Louis City Council. Some say that after the second of those meetings, it was clear no compromise was attainable.

Favre said Wednesday that he's still holding out hope that both sides can reach an agreement and avoid a costly court battle.

Under the services and facilities plan approved Tuesday, the Bay would have to add a new fire station with nine firefighters, a tanker truck and two portable tanks, plus training and equipment; and add four new patrol officers to the Bay Police Department, plus training and equipment. It would also nearly double the size of the Public Works Department, adding 13 laborers at a cost of $376,397 per year, including salaries and benefits; and, in the first year of the annexation, purchase equipment including a $180,000 motor grader; $50,000 boom mower; $50,000 side mower; $42,000 single-axle dump truck; $50,000 double-axle dump truck; two backhoes at $40,000 each; a $150,000 trackhoe; and six $15,000 pickups. It would also install 307 street lights, including sixty-nine 400-watt lights along Hwy. 603 and two hundred and thirty-eight 150-watt lights along local streets.

Total additional operating expenses for the expansion of the public works department are estimated at $250,325 for the first year, including manpower and equipment; $204,532 for year two; $208,827 for year three; $213,212 for year four; $217,690 for year five; and $222,261 for year six.

However, Favre said, "If we can still reach an agreement with the city of Waveland, then different expenses would be modified depending on what that agreement would be (if less land were annexed), some of the expenses would be modified also."

Favre said last week that the Bay is in good shape to take on the annexation despite recent reports to the contrary. He said that even after annexation costs, debt service payments, the cash purchase of a new fire truck and several police cars, that the city will have cash reserves totaling over $200,000 at the close of 2005. The city is prepared to provide immediate services of police and fire protection, and general public works services such as pothole repair, ditch cleaning, and right-of-way mowing, to the annexed area, he said. Projects like road paving will not be possible right away, he said.

DuPont Safety and Health Fair

Scores of DuPont employees, retirees, community guests and their families mixed learning about health and safety with a dose of fun and recreation at the plant's Safety and Health Fair this past Saturday, October 30. The event featured over 25 health care providers and vendors demonstrating good health techniques and prevention to attendees. The fair was held on the plant site in DeLisle at Blake Lake, a 5-acre body of water. Special events for children also were featured, including the Inaugural Blake Lake Shootout, a catch-and-release fishing tournament for ages 5-15. Some 120 children participated in the tournament. The fair was a project of the plant's medical department and the plant's Safety Activities Committee.

Sheriff: Lady did not fall for money scam

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

An elderly lady residing in the Carriere Community in North Hancock, did the right thing by notifying the sheriff's office about a possible scam, Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt reports.

"On Thursday, the lady received a telephone call from a female, who reported to her that she had won over $5 million in an Australian lottery," Kurt said.

Hurt continued, "The caller advised the resident that her number matched a lottery in which she won $12,500. Her number was placed in another lottery and this time matched for a winner of $5,000,000 more."

The alert resident became really suspicious when the caller told her she needed $900 plus up front to process her winnings, Hurt stated.

The lady then told the caller she was not going to send the up front money and she was then told they would respond to her in writing.

Deputy John Bounce responded to the call.

Hurt said all residents need to be aware that there are scams out there trying to get a person's money.

"I urge all citizens never to send money, give out any personal information, such as a check account numbers, social security card numbers, credit card numbers, etc., out to someone they do not know," Hurt said.

"If it sounds too good to be true, in all probability it is not true. Do not hesitate to call the sheriff's office, if you are approached, telephoned, or received mail offering you money for something you know nothing about," Hurt emphasized.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office can be reached at 228-467-5101, or 601-798-8555, (Pacayune exchange).

Drug suspect nabbed in undercover operation

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Bay St. Louis suspect was arrested Wednesday afternoon in connection with the sale of crack cocaine, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Narcotics Division director Major Matt Karl said, "Damon Adolph, 19, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested at a Waveland Motel for the alleged sale of a 'cookie' of crack cocaine."

"The Sheriff's Narcotic Division, MBN and DEA agents in addition to Hancock County Deputies were involved in the operation."

Karl continued, "An informant set up the drug buy. Adolph had been under surveillance for several days. The operation began around 2 p.m. and the arrest was made in a motel room around 3:15 p.m. by agents."

The informant had made contact with the suspect, Karl said.

When he arrived, the amount of cocaine and the cost were discussed and the sale was made.

The value of the cocaine was estimated at $800 to $900 Karl said.

Adolph was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility on one count of the sale of a controlled substance, (rock cocaine) and his bond was set at $50,000, according to Karl.

Karl is leading the investigation, which is still under way, he said.

Karl urges residents to report any possible drug activity in their area to the Narcotic Division by calling 228-467-1496, or the sheriff's office at 228-467-5101, or 1-601-798-8555.

Alleged reckless driving leads to filing of marijuana charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Gulfport resident was arrested Friday night around midnight and charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Narcotic Division's director Major Matt Karl said, "Michael McElhenney, 26, of Gulfport, was arrested following a traffic violation stop and charged with possession of a controlled substance, (marijuana), with intent to deliver. He was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $25,000 bond."

Karl continued, "McElhenney was stopped by deputies following a report to the sheriff's office of a reckless driving of a vehicle traveling on the Kiln-DeLisle Road. Deputies Tim Campbell and Mary Acosta observed the reckless driving and made the traffic violation stop."

"Deputies noticed several pill bottles on the back seat. They inquired if there were any narcotics in the vehicle and were told no, then given permission to search the vehicle. During their initial search they noticed marijuana seeds and stems. Discovered was a package wrapped in duct tape which contained several packages of suspected marijuana. Agent Chris Russell was then dispatched to the scene," Karl reported.

Karl said, "There were several bags of marijuana with a total weight of approximately a half pound and scales found in the vehicle."

Chamber Orchestra set Nov. 7 at Diamondhead

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society is sponsoring the Jefferson Parish Arts Society Chamber Orchestra, Nov. 7, 7 p.m.

The orchestra is a veteran of 27 years of performances. Diamondhead Performing Arts Society president Charles Garrison reports.

The Chamber Orchestra is to perform at the Diamondhead Country Club with tickets available at the door at $15 each. Comprised of some of the finest musicians from South Louisiana and Metro New Orleans, the Orchestra under the direction of its founder, Maestro Dennis G. Assaf, will present an evening of classics from Mozart to Massenet, among others.

The heavily Italian flavored program will provide an artistically satisfying and stimulating experience for listeners, Garrison said.

Originally scheduled for Nov. 7, was the Orchestra da Camera Aretusea from Sicily, which had to cancel its American tour because of cutbacks in Italy.

Get ready for the first annual Chili Cook-off

It appeared everyone had a good time on Halloween and there were a large number of trick-or-treaters around the area.

A good crowd also attended the annual Hancock County Historical Society's Cemetery tour too.

The many donations are really appreciated from the 350 or so folks who visited the cemetery.

The 'Nearly Departed' Dorothea Martin really enjoys her role of collecting the donations at the start of the cemetery tours.

Those monies will be used for repairing headstones, tombs, etc.; in Cedar Rest, many of which have no relatives to take care of the maintenance.

The dozen folks who were portrayers, in addition to the guides, helpers at Kate Lobrano Cottage, also need to be commended for their efforts.

As always, the City of Bay St. Louis grounds crews did a great job too by preparing the cemetery for All Saints Day.

I am already looking forward to next year's Halloween.

On Friday, November 12, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club will hold a Chili Cookoff at the Hancock County Civic Center.

This if one of the Rotary's main fund raisers this year. Proceeds go towards the club's many community projects.

Régan Kane is the chairman for the Chili Cookoff and he reported Tuesday there are already 23 participating teams.

There is still room for more and for further information, call Kane at 467-5500, or Oliver Peneguy at 466-0321.

Celebrity judges will be doing the judging and there will be three categories. The Rotary Club is seeking the best cooks. Trophies will go in the classes, the Peoples Choice, Judge's Choice and Best Booth display.

Now the general public plays an important roll too.

Tickets will be available at the door for the chili at $6 per person. You can eat all the chili you want too.

So, do not forget to make a note of Friday, Nov. 12, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to attend the Bay Rotary Club's Chili Cookoff.

Environmental education is vital

Bob Kochtitzky's idea of an Easter egg hunt at Boyd Elementary School here is to hide litter around the school campus and challenge the students to find it.

The hidden litter idea is just one of the many ways

Kochtitzky is helping Mississippi school kids develop an awareness of how they are members of Earth's family in his award-winning "Our World Discovery" program.

Kochtitzky, executive director of Mississippi 2020, a non-profit environmental group, has since 1992 meshed his hands-on innovative program into elementary school curriculums to heighten youngsters awareness of their role as Earth caretakers.

Almost as a bonus, Kochtitzky's program is aimed at transforming the school campus into a model of positive human relations, improvement of test scores and development of successful leadership.

At Jackson's two-year-old McWillie Elementary, Kochtitzky staffers are working with teachers to involve students in waste paper recycling, composting cafeteria food waste and raising organic vegetable gardens.

McWillie is a state-of-the-art single-level school building with classroom clusters arrayed in three spoke-like pods jutting out from a circular center. There's a good bit of distance from one end of each spoke to the center and that's fine with Kochtitzky who says kids need to walk more.

Housing kindergarten through 2nd grade students, McWillie is ideally suited for the Mississippi 2020 program.

This year, it's one of two public schools in the city with specially-trained teachers to educate in the Montessori Method, noted nationally for developing initiative and creativity in children. Montessori at McWillie (previously available only at private schools in Jackson) has attracted a number of white parents to send their children to the new Northeast Jackson elementary school.

Hands of eager 2nd graders in a McWillie class, shoot up to grab the attention of Kochtitzky staffer Sarah Gentry as she does out tiny plastic beads of seven different colors representing the earth family-water, soil, air, sun, plants, animals and people--then asks for comments.

"What would our world be like without the sun?" asks Gentry. Youngsters weigh in with a wide variety of answers.

"Dark, and cold," a little girl in braided pigtails says, right on the mark.

"What can we do to protect our air from smoke and fumes from automobile exhausts?" Gentry adds as clear heads are passed out.

Several say "ride our bikes," and then with some coaching from Gentry, they come up with car-pooling to school instead of a number of cars.

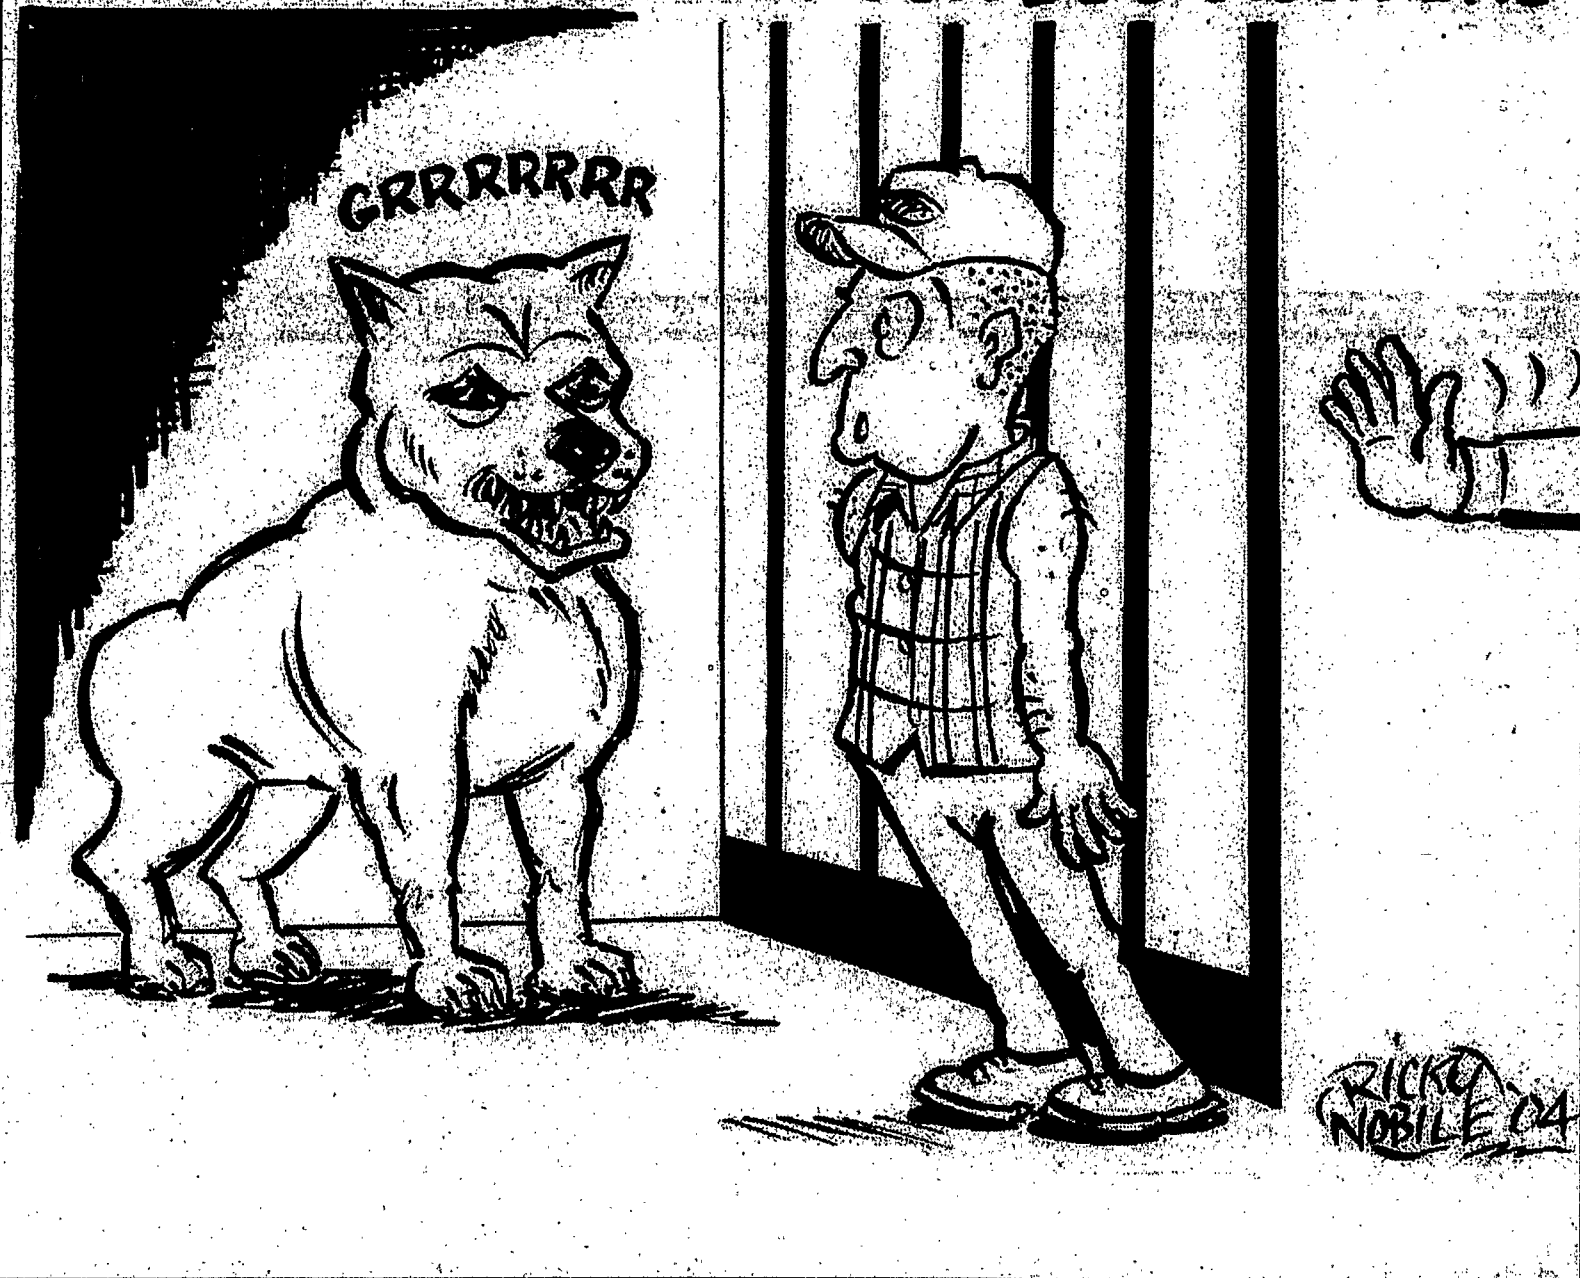

Already experienced into putting waste food scraps from their lunch trays into a compost bin located in the green space outside the classroom pod, the children are quick to answer when

The 'Do Nothing' 108th Congress

BY THOMAS P. CADMUS

Americans are frustrated by the inept performance of this floundering Congress. Only the "Do Nothing Congress" of 1948 can claim a record of accomplishment more miserable than the one that just recessed so its members could hit the campaign trail.

When this Congress went home, it had enacted only four of 13 budget bills, leaving the top priorities of the American people in limbo and unfunded. What kind of leadership is that? Moreover, they shelved legislation on health-care, education, immigration, welfare reform and numerous other issues that affect the lives of all Americans.

They tabled American values. What about the flag amendment? What about religious persecution of our allies in Vietnam? What about the Pledge of Allegiance? The American people wanted answers; they wanted leadership, and all they got was political posturing, partisanship and pandering.

Political gamesmanship has even crept into veterans' issues, once neutral territory.

Bullets and bombs are nonpartisan; they kill and maim without regard to affiliation. Veterans' benefits once reflected the appreciation of a grateful nation. No longer. Too many in

Letters to the Editor

Our letters policy

Congress now treat veterans' issues like so many poker chips pushed back and forth, from party to party, in a game of chance the veteran rarely wins.

In short, our lawmakers opted to kiss babies and shake hands rather than finish the business of the American people. No surprise. That's been the pattern for the entire session.

lack of leadership and lack of action.

This is not the government the Founding Fathers had in mind. They wanted a Congress governed by a national vision, not by personal or party agendas - a government of shared responsibilities united by concern for the nation.

Minor -- Environmental education

Gentry asks about plants. And likewise when she hauls out the brown beads to represent soil, since they are already aware of the role of worms in the enrichment of soil.

Over at Boyd school a few blocks away, with grades three to six, dirt-filled worm boxes are kept in some of the classrooms to let youngsters watch daily how worm excrement provides natural nitrogen.

Also at Boyd, the recycling of waste paper (remember the Easter egg hunt?) is brought to a higher level.

Boyd students are now into another Kochtitzky project: making patches bearing words such as "love" and "concern," to be put together by volunteer quilt-makers and sent to orphanages in Iraq or other nations.

In Jackson, Kochtitzky labels his program "Growing Leadership for Jackson." He doesn't merge the idea into the school curriculum without prior consent from the local school officials, and also the State Department of Education.

Assistant Principal Vicki Conley at McWillie enthusiastically endorses the Kochtitzky program, introduced at the school last year. It has "connected our students to the natural world by creatively providing techniques to increase self-esteem, value teamwork, and expand community involvement," she says.

Six years ago, Kochtitzky won national recognition for his innovative "Our World Discovery" program at 600-student Orange Grove Elementary in Harrison County.

The 1998 national Environmental Achievement Award was presented to Mississippi 2020 for its hands-on environmental friendly program. Kochtitzky had meshed into Oak Grove's curriculum the previous year. It was also credited with helping raise test scores in grades 4-6 and reducing discipline problems.

Oak Grove Elementary principal Yvonne D. Ball in a letter praised introduction of the Our World Discovery Plan program and said she would recommend it in the Gulf Coast area.

Now he happily wages his personal campaign to make children become "Earth literate" and also role models for sustainable lifestyles.

Congress -- do-nothing

Every day, families in America set priorities and make decisions based on what's good for the entire household. They expect that their Congress should do no less.

Unfortunately, this Congress seems to be more intent on scoring political points and looking good on

C-SPAN than they are on funding veterans' hospitals, curbing illegal immigration or lowering the price of prescription drugs for seniors.

On Sept. 11, 2001, partisan politics came to a halt, if only for a moment; the nation spoke with one voice, and it felt so good to be an American.

Maybe we can get back to that when the election is over.

Maybe we're experiencing an election year phenomenon and not a political trend.

In any case, Americans everywhere are looking to Washington for leadership and they are expecting priorities to be set and decisions to be made. We've had enough slogans and sound bites. We've had enough posturing and partisanship. It's time to get back to the priorities of America and leave the politics behind.

Thomas P. Cadmus is the National Commander of The American Legion, the nation's largest war-time veterans organization with 2.7 million members.

Diamondhead Dance Club

The Diamondhead Dance Club celebrates Halloween 2004. Shown are some of the costumed club members at their Halloween Party on October 27. The many varied costumes at the party greatly enhanced the festivities. Some were scary, some were funny, but all were original and creative. The dancers who entertained the children at Head-Start School in Bay St. Louis at their Halloween Party are also shown. Left to right, they are: Charlie Olivier, Faye Johnson, Lorraine Heffron, Dottie Farley, Chris Simpson, Lois Forrest, Ruth Olivier, Annette Rolles, Shirley Strickland, Frances Pila, Carolyn Reeves and Ron Forest. The dancers average four performances a month at various festivals, schools, nursing homes and parties. For more information about this group, please contact Ruth at 255-3477.

'The Exonerated' to feature, veteran, novice thespians

THE SEA COAST ECHO

"Keep in mind that I wasn't released until 1992. So I'll just give you a moment to reflect; from 1976 to 1992, just remove that entire chunk from your life, and that's what happened."

Those are the words of Sunny Jacobs, who was wrongfully convicted of slaying two police officers and later found innocent.

The Coast premiere of "The Exonerated," produced by Olde Towne Players and sponsored by Dunbar Village, will be staged at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre Playhouse on Boardman Avenue at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 and 6 and 2 p.m. Nov. 7.

Like the theatre company's debut production, "The Laramie Project," "The Exonerated" is taken from real life. The play, aimed at mature audiences because of its content and strong language, tells the stories of six innocent people who were convicted of murder, sentenced to death and exonerated after spending years on death row.

Portraying the "exonerated" death row inmates are Metric Dockins as Delbert Tibbs, John Guida as Gary Gauger, Charles Joseph as Robert Earl Hayes, Malvern Burnett as Kerry Max Cook, Stefen King as David Keaton and Mike Cuevas as Sunny Jacobs, whose husband was executed in Florida in a botched execution that took three 55-second jolts of electricity to kill him.

The play describes not only their trials but how life on death row affected them and the aftermath of their wrongful convictions.

"The Exonerated" won both the Drama Desk and Outer Critics Circle Awards in 2003. The multi-racial cast assembled from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Clermont Harbor, Long Beach and Gulfport by co-directors Becky Rotundo and Nan Ehrbright also features Sandy Brenske, Joyce Graves, Sandy Higdon, Maureen Morley, Donna Oakley, Candace Payne, Jim Welsh and Ralph West, several of whom play multiple characters.

Dockins, who reported for The Sun Herald for 28 years, is reference manager for the Hancock County Library System. He made his Coast stage debut in Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's production of "The Piano Lesson."

John Guida is a former Chicago police officer. The probation officer was active in community theatre in Chicago and performed with Black Rose Theatre in Brandon. "The Exonerated" marks his Coast debut.

Charles Joseph, a rocket engine mechanic for Boeing at Stennis Space Center, is a member of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre board of directors. He appeared in its production of "Once on This Island" and directed "The Piano Lesson."

Malvern Burnett, an immigration lawyer, had a minor role in "The Ticket," a pilot movie shot in New Orleans. He makes his debut in Coast community Theatre with "The Exonerated."

Stefen King, a computer programmer for Planning Systems, Inc., appeared in "The Wiz," "Fences," "Raisin in the Sun" and "The Colored Museum" in college. He last appeared onstage in Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's "The Piano Lesson."

Mike Cuevas is the director of cultural affairs for the City of Bay St. Louis. She has more than 17 years of acting, directing and backstage experience with Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. "The Exonerated" marks her return to community theatre after a too-long absence.

Brenske is a financial analyst for the Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command at Stennis Space Center. "The Exonerated" marks her stage debut.

Graves, a retired school teacher, has appeared in numerous plays, TV commercials, public TV public service announcements. She had an "extra" role in the movie "The Runaway Jury" and appeared in Olde Towne Players' production of "The Laramie Project."

Higdon, a retiree, has acted in numerous productions in New Orleans, Arizona and on the Coast. She played the mother in Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's production of "The Glass Menagerie" and last appeared in Olde Towne Players' "The Laramie Project." Morley, who is vice president of Dunbar Village, has acted with the Black Rose Theatre in Brandon. She last appeared here in "The Actor's Nightmare."

Oakley is a licensed practical nurse but now operates several businesses, which include grounds maintenance and home renovations. She made her stage debut in Olde Towne

Players' first production, "The Laramie Project."

Payne is a receptionist for Heritage Title Co. She appeared in a junior college production of "Black Elk Speaks" and has performed in church plays. "The Exonerated" is his first community theatre production.

Welsh is a former journalist and musician who is now writing fiction and has just completed a collection of short stories. He made his stage debut in "The Laramie Project" for Olde Towne Players.

West is retired from the New Orleans Fire Department where he led training classes and held media conferences at the city's hazardous materials officer.

Tickets are $7 at the door. Olde Towne Players will donate a portion of proceeds to the Center on Wrongful Convictions at the Northwestern University of Law in Chicago.

Pass Christian Garden Club receives Entergy MS's 'Keep Mississippi Beautiful' award for 2004

The Pass Christian Garden Club hosted the Spanish Trail District Meeting for the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, at the Pass Christian Yacht Club. Present were 115 Garden Club members from around the state of Mississippi. Reverend Dennis Carver, Pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church, gave the Invocation. Mr. Marlin Ladner, Harrison County Supervisor, Mayor Billy McDonald of Pass, Christian, and Ms. Wilma Rizzardi, Executive Director Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce presented welcome messages. The Blessing was by Ms. Shirley Williams, member Pass Christian Garden Club. The Theme was "Pass Christian goes Tropical".

Garden Club members decorated the Yacht Club with fresh flowers, tropical plants, and beautiful table arrangements of fresh Dole fruits.

During the meeting a surprise award was presented to the Pass Christian Garden Club members. The "Keep Mississippi Beautiful 2004" award by Entergy Mississippi, through the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, was presented by President Carol Bullard, along with a Home Depot credit of $250.00, and was accepted by Pass Christian Garden Club President

Petie Hyman. This was in appreciation of the many projects undertaken by Pass Christian Garden Club to beautify the community. The club sponsored a landscape beautification project at the Library. Created a new garden "Friendship Memorial Triangle Garden" with cooperation from many other groups. Won the Historic Trails Award for the State of Mississippi and the Deep South Region for the William Bartram Arboretum and Butterfly Garden on Menge Avenue. The club was only one of 5 in the state of Mississippi to receive a Principal Financial Group Historic Garden Grant for the old Library on Scenic Drive. The members also participated in the Avenue of the Magnolias, The Freedom Trees project and The Blooming Trees project and sponsored a camper for the Lanoux Youth Nature Camp.

President Petie Hyman recognized several members for their dedication and hard work. Michelle Smith, Civic Beautification Chairman; Helen Davis and Margie Walle - Chairmen of the Arboretum and Karen Webb the luncheon decorations chairman.

March of Dimes events scheduled Nov. 13

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The people of Hancock County are busy working to help the March of Dimes save babies by raising money to help fund the Prematurity Campaign.

Hancock County WalkAmerica is November 13 and Blue Jeans for Babies Day is November 16. Hancock Women's Center is certainly doing their part. They signed up early on to become a WalkAmerica Hospitality Tent Sponsor.

On November 13th at 3:00 p.m. Hancock Women's Center will be set up at The Train Depot to support all of the WalkAmerica participants. Many of their moms-to-be (patients) will be on hand to join in the fun.

They are also fundraising as a WalkAmerica team and participating in Blue Jeans for Babies Day.

To make it even more fun, the staff of Hancock Women's Center is wearing their Blue Jeans for Babies shirts once a week, every week until the big day.

Why are they so excited about helping the March of Dimes? Dr. Dimitri Yanez says, "Prematurity is one of the most challenging issues in Obstetrics today. Awareness, research and effort in that endeavor will give children a better opportunity to start life out in a healthy manner."

March of Dimes is working hard to help combat premature birth much like the help March of Dimes provided so many years ago to combat the deadly disease, polio.

Dr. Noel Duplantier says, "I think that educating our patients about the signs and symptoms of prematurity, as well as the continuation of research, will prove to be the two most beneficial efforts for our babies."

"If you are a patient of Hancock Women's Center, give them a call and find out how you can join their team."

Anyone interested in participating in WalkAmerica or Blue Jeans for Babies Day please contact Kay Daneault at 228-896-0886 or Mickey Lagasse, chairman at 467-4157.

Wanted

In every community across our state, there are people we respect and admire for the work they do to make a positive difference. The Ageless Heroes program celebrates these people as role models for what can be achieved after the age of 65.

If you know someone like this, then we want to know about them. Nominate them for a Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Mississippi Ageless Hero Award.

Call 1-800-222-1331 to request a nomination form, or submit a nomination online at www.bcbssms.com. The deadline is November 30, 2004.

Sears opens today in Waveland

A new Sears Authorized Retail Dealer store opens today in Waveland at the site of the old Walmart on Highway 90. Owner Arthur S. Bond, surrounded by numerous workers, was busy Wednesday, checking computer register systems and getting everything ready for the opening.

"We're very excited to open a Sears store right here in Waveland," said Bond. "Local customers can expect excellent customer service, a great selection of quality merchandise and the same national pricing as the Sears mall stores."

"Sears long tradition of serving customers in small communities dates back to the company's founding 112 years ago in North Redwood, Minnesota," said Penny Katsaros, Vice President/General Manager, Sears Dealer Store program. "Our goal is to re-enter these communities and provide loyal customers with quality merchandise and a convenient shopping location. We believe the new Sears Dealer store will be the appliance and electronics superstore in Waveland."

"When customers enter the store, they will recognize the Kenmore and Craftsman brands but may be surprised by the other leading brands that we carry, including Maytag, General Electric, KitchenAid, Whirlpool, Maggavox, Sony, JVC and many more," said Bond. "The store will also offer repair service on all brands of appliances and consumer electronics so folks don't have to travel far to have their merchandise fixed."

Diamondhead resident Dan Monger will be the store's manager.

A grand opening ribbon cutting ceremony is scheduled for 4 p.m. this afternoon. The store is located at 454 Highway 90 and will be open 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday-Saturday, and noon.-5 p.m. on Sunday. Call 466-4420 for more information.

The Waveland Sears Dealer store is one of more than 800 Authorized Retail Dealer stores opened since June 1993. Sears, Roebuck and Co. is a leading U.S. retailer of apparel, home and automotive services, with annual revenues of more than $41 billion. For more information, visit Sears web site at www.sears.com.

Adult -- supers create strip club restrictions

prompted the county to speed up work on the proposal, though it has been in discussion for some time, said Artigues.

Last week, the two applicants filed a federal lawsuit citing violation of their First Amendment rights in the approval process for the clubs. One club, Magnolia 1, owned by Kirk and Christine Ladner and Emmet Hotard all of Diamondhead, had been turned down by the Planning and Zoning Board and owners had appealed to county supervisors. Another, proposed by Weldon Frommeyer of New Orleans, was still being considered by the permit office when the suit was filed.

Highlights of the proposed ordinance include:

- Such businesses must be located 2,000 feet or more from any church, school, child care facility, or public recreation area and 2,000 feet or more from any residentially zoned property.
- No such business may be located within 500 feet of another such business.
- A license that is renewable each year will be required.
- Any person with ten per cent or greater interest in the business must make an ownership disclosure on a disclosure form.

- The disclosure will include the business license history of the owner.

- The disclosure will include any felony and misdemeanor convictions, excluding traffic offenses.

- An investigation and background check of the applicant will be completed by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

- The sale or transfer of any interest in the business shall render the license null and void.

The new owner would have to go through the application procedure.

- Such license may be terminated or denied if the applicant used fraud or deceit to acquire the license; if the owner of anyone with a ten percent interest has been convicted within two years of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; if the license is violated or ordinance provisions are in non-compliance; or if the owners is conducting the business or other such business in violation of applicable laws.

- Any area in which live performances occur shall have a partition of solid construction without holes or openings at least five feet high measured from the stage. The partition may be transparent.

- It will be unlawful for alcoholic beverages to be consumed or in the possession of anyone on the premises. It will also be unlawful for the proprietor, manager or employee to sell, give, barter for or otherwise provide for or allow the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on the premises.

The proposed ordinance will be available for inspection at the office of the Board of Supervisors at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for 30 days beginning on Monday, November 8.

In other business:

- Supervisors gave their approval to a $4.5 million bond issue. Dollars will be placed in a special fund, supervisors said. About $4 million will be used for road and bridge repair and $500,000 will be used for repair to existing roofs on county buildings.

- Supervisors passed a dangerous animal control ordinance which provides for fines for dangerous animals, as well as fines for abusing or neglecting animals, and defines the responsibility of the owners. Once an animal is classified as dangerous the ordinance requires the owner to carry liability insurance for personal injury complaints.

Toxic -- creosote dumped

Jerry Banks at the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality's Jackson office said the waste consists of creosote and waste oil. The soil is heavily contaminated, he said. The material is being brought to Pecan Grove, Banks said, because it is one of 17 permitted sites in the state that can receive toxic material.

Other nearby landfills are in Pearl River and in Jackson County itself, though Banks could not say how the Pass Christian site was chosen. Calls to a local field office in Harrison County to clarify the issue resulted in being routed back to the Jackson office.

"We have a person here who inspects the landfill but we really are not in this loop ... this is being handled above us," said Harrison County MDEQ employee Becky Comyns. "The first we knew of it is when we got a complaint."

Property owners CSX Rail and the contractor for the job negotiate the best price with a licensed landfill and decide where the waste will go, said Tony Russell from the MDEQ Jackson Office on Wednesday.

Banks said the cleanup began last week and would have been finished this week if wet weather had not held it up. An estimated 1,750 cubic yards of material or about 90 truck loads is being removed, said Russell. Gautier resident Aimee Gautier said on Tuesday that large trucks were passing her house about every ten minutes.

"We are concerned because the trucks are not sealed and the stuff is blowing out," said Gautier. "They are basically dump trucks with a piece of plastic on top and the workers are not wearing protective clothing. They are also driving down residential streets in a historic area."

Gautier said aside from an inspector from the MDEQ, who appeared once, the operation appeared to have no supervision. The company handling the operation should know the procedures, said Banks, and the tarps are approved for this type of operation.

Banks did say he would look into the situation to make sure procedures were being followed. Russell said someone from the MDEQ makes periodic inspections of the site.

The site was originally slated to be designated a Federal Superfund site in the 1980's, but never officially put on the list, Banks said. Clean up has been a slow ongoing process since that time.

A report released by the ATSDR defines creosote as a mixture of many chemicals. Ingestion may be through air, food or water and causes a burning sensation in the mouth and throat, stomach pains, severe skin irritation, convulsions, and kidney and liver problems. According to an Internet report on the Gautier Oil Company soil at the site contains high concentrations of lead, chromium, chloroform, toluene, naphthalene, phenol, and pentachlorophenol. PCB's were also found on site.

Election

Taylor defeated both of his opponents this year by a wide margin. Taylor received 65 percent of the vote to Mike Lott's 35 percent, and Tracella Lou O'Hara Hill's less than one percent.

"I'm just happy to have gotten the votes that I did," Taylor said.

Mike Randolph defeated Joe Lee for the District 2 State Supreme Court Justice seat. Randolph took 9,332 votes in Hancock County, while Lee took 6,596.

Four out of five Hancock County election commissioners ran unopposed. Lem McCoy (district one), Wayne Spiers (district two), Gary T. Gilmore (district three) and Caroline M. Adam (district four) all retained their seats. In district five, Lynn Cheramie defeated Donette Lee. Cheramie received 2,116 votes, while Lee received 1,368.

Christopher "Packer" Ladner and Rose Acker ran unopposed for seats on the Hancock County School Board. They will replace Larry Peterson (district one), and Cheryl Bennett (district two) respectively.

Mississippi also voted to say "no" to gay marriage. Constitutional amendment #1, H.C.R. #56 passed with a 6-1 in-favor ratio across the state.

In Hancock County, the amendment passed with 78 percent in favor, 22 percent against.

10 other states that also voted on similar amendments on Tuesday passed them as well.

Poll workers across

Hancock County said Nov. 2 had a record number of voter turnout and participation in this year's presidential election.

Gladys Shaw, receive-and-return manager for the Crane Creek Community Center precinct, said voters had formed a queue outside before the poll had opened.

"This is the first time we've actually had people standing in line," Shaw said.

Gloria Shaw, who works at the same precinct, said the number of people who continued to come and vote was surprising.

"We usually don't have so many people come in at even the end of the day," she said.

June Dearman, receive and return manager for the Edwardsville Civic Center precinct on Longfellow Rd., agreed that Tuesday's turnout was remarkable.

"This is going to be a historic turnout here," she said. "We've never had anything like this before."

Dearman estimated that over 500 people had voted at the civic center before 11 a.m., and estimated they had averaged 200 votes an hour during the early hours.

Willie Bazar of Nacaise said she voted for Bush because she believes he's the best candidate for the job.

"I'm for Bush, because he's against abortion and gay marriage," she said.

Another voter said that since he was undecided, he would determine who he voted for by coin toss.

"If the coin stays in the air, I'll vote for Bush," he said.

Republican Women's Club to meet today at 11 a.m. in the Bay

The next regular meeting of the Hancock County Republican Women's Club will be held at 11 a.m., Thursday, November 4 at the Bush - Cheney Headquarters Office, located in the Winn-Dixie Shopping Center, Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. ## Chase -- Slidell kidnapping ends in D'head

The driver refused to stop and entered I-10's east lane. Lt. Pat Matthews joined in the pursuit, Hancock County Sheriff's Department was notified of the chase heading across the state line.

Investigator John Luther, who was on call, said, "Hancock Sheriff's office said after receiving the call for assistance from Slidell police, Hancock Deputies joined in the pursuit at mile 13 on I-10 near Highway 603 intersection. Speeds were in excess of 100 miles per hour."

Luther continued, "The suspect took the Diamondhead exit, then jumped from his vehicle as it rolled in the front yard of a Diamondhead East resident. Then a female exited from the vehicle and ran to Deputy Tim Campbell reporting she had been kidnapped. She had what appeared to be serious head injuries."

The suspect, Shelby Whittle, 27, of Pearl River, LA, was apprehended in a wooded area a very short time later by Lt. Jimmy Esposito, Hancock's K-9 unit, according to Luther.

The victim, Rachael Garcia, 28, of Slidell was transported to Slidell's North Shore Hospital by American Medical Response.

Callahan said, "Garcia is a bartender at a daiquiri and sports cafe. As she began to close the business for the night, a patron, who she knew only as Shelby, had been there since 7 p.m. Monday, had left through the front door. After locking herself in alone, she began to clean up. Through the rear door the victim emptied the garbage and proceeded to go back into the business and failed to lock the door behind her."

Callahan continued, "Whittle had entered the back door and surprised Garcia, whom he told he had left his car keys somewhere and proceeded to walk around looking for them. She stayed behind the bar until he left. The suspect entered a second time and was carrying a wooden club called a 'tire billy,' he struck her across the forehead breaking the .2 inch diameter club in half. She fell to the floor dazed, then she got up and ran to a bathroom and locked her self inside. He then forced himself into the bathroom where he began to choke her until she fell unconscious."

"She said she regained consciousness a short time later and found her self alone in the bathroom. The suspect heard her spitting up blood, then he picked her up and placed her over his shoulder and carried her out to his pickup truck, and sped away" the report said.

Slidell's Investigators strongly feel that Whittle's intentions were to kill the victim - the only witness to his crime - and discard her body in a remote location.

Whittle's Slidell charges include; attempted first-degree murder, armed robbery, second degree kidnapping and aggravated flight from an officer, Callahan's report states.

Slidell Police Chief Freddy Drennan stated, "There is no doubt in my mind this officer (Simon) was at the right place at the right time and saved this victim's life. Whether it's divine intervention, good police work, good luck, or a combination of all three, I truly feel a life was saved tonight."

The Slidell Police Department's release said, Whittle has an extensive police record and was on parole at this time.

Garcia was reportedly in a serious condition with a gash on her forehead and cut on her head and is to have surgery of her skull.

Hancock Deputies Mary

Acosta and Stacey Wilson, were involved in the chase and arrest too, Luther said.

Whittle, was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice facility with local traffic violations, felony evasion and excessive speeds. Slidell authorities are in the process of seeking his extradition, Luther reported.

RESTAURANT REVIEW

Presenting some of the Finest Restaurants on the Mississippi Gulf Coast

Bridget & Bill Tell

BNB's Bagel & Brew

There is a great little coffee shop located in Waveland that offers much more than just coffee. BNB's Bagel & Brew located at 304 E. Hwy 90 in Waveland offers their valued customers friendly service and a wonderful place to meet for a lite breakfast or lite lunch in a great atmosphere.

Local owners Bridget and Bill Tell insist on providing their customers only the finest and freshest coffees and pastries available. Of course they offer lattes, mochas, cappuccinos, cafe au lait and espresso but you can also customize your coffee with your favorite flavorings such as almond, butter rum, english toffee, hazelnut, white chocolate and more. Other hot beverages are also available such as hot chocolate, white mocha, and flavored gourmet teas.

Stop in BNB's for a terrific lite lunch. I personally enjoy the chicken salad served on a delicious golden croissant but other traditional sandwiches are served as well. Fresh potato salad, cole slaw or the house salad is available as sides. Smoothies are also a favorite at BNB's. Choose from strawberry, banana, strawberry, pina colada or kiwi strawberry.

BNB's also has pastries to satisfy any sweet tooth. A fresh assortment of muffins, danishes, bagels, cakes and brownies are available everyday. BNB's can help you with your special occasions too. Delightful sandwich trays or pastry trays from BNB's make hosting your next gathering convenient and easy.

With the holidays fast approaching, you'll be needing gift ideas. BNB's has a wonderful assortment of gift baskets and specialty gifts. Everything from breads, cookies, drink mixes, teas and all kinds of gourmet goodies.

BNB's is open 7am-4pm, Monday through Friday and 8am-12 noon on Saturday. Please call ahead for party trays at 466-6666 or for more information.

Missionary Arnold Oh meets with members of Main St. United Methodist Church.

Main Street United Methodist hosts Church Mission Fair

Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis recently held a Mission Fair at the church. Fellow Christians came together from Florida, North Carolina and from throughout Mississippi to share with the congregation how God was working through them to help those in need. They brought displays, exhibits, and stories to tell about their various ministries. Main Street UMC is currently involved in mission and ministry locally, regionally, nationally and internationally. Some missionaries came to help inform the congregation about possibilities for reaching out in love and service in new ways and to new individuals and groups.

Arnold Oh, a missionary whom the church supported this year, shared his message about Cambodia and its people during the two worship services. Through pictures and music, he showed the life of those living in the garbage dump and told of how they ministered to him as he was trying to understand and help them. The Cambodians, needs continue and Main Street UMC is in the process of setting up ways to help. Various church groups and individuals have already responded by "adopting" children and providing monthly support.

Mission Fair Day included visits to Rebecca Hall, where the Fair was set up. Some of the congregation came at 9:45 a.m., after the first worship service, at which time the United Methodist Women served refreshments. At noon, after the second service, dinner was provided by the Seekers adult Sunday School Class. Viewing of the displays and conversations with the ministry participants continued until about 1:30 p.m.

Missions and ministries represented were: Campus Crusade for Christ, Dave Doll; Arnold Oh, Cambodia; United Methodist Volunteers in Mission (UMVIM), Robert Sharp; Seashore Mission, Joyce Emile; Congregations for Children, Becky Trask; Moore Community House, Margie Bennett; Hope Haven Children's Home, Jane Anderson; Gulfside United Methodist Assembly, Marian Martin and Genevieve Gordon; Choctaw Mission, Beth and Joan Holyfield; Navajo Missions, Marty and Don Woodall, J. Fred Fisher, Tony Henderson, Scott Macchio, Kelly Bise, Meagan Duncan, Alden Alexander, Whitney Holliday, Thuy Gibson, and Adam Horlock; Christmas in April, Judy Reeves; Hancock County Food Pantry, Tom and Sally McCormick; Gulf Coast Women's Center for Nonviolence, Cathy Dumas; Russian Church, Jerry Chapman; United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR-Sager Brown), Bev Hampton; Africa University, Bonnie Dillon and Gay Huff; and Operation CareLife (Russia). Norm Montgomery. Other ministries represented were: Center for International Seamen and Truckers, Hispanic/Latino Ministries with the Rev. Sally Bevil as Covenant Partner; Heifer International; the NOMADS (RV volunteers); Baddour Center (for developmentally challenged adults); The United Methodist Hour and Prayer Line; Salvation Army Christmas stockings; "Souper Bowl Sunday" and Easter basket collections for the needy; One Great Hour of sharing; Senior Services; the Annual Conference Special; Golden Cross; and

World-Wide Communion. ## No fishing allowed from Hwy. 90 bridge

THE SEA COAST ECHO
According to state ordinance set in place by the Mississippi Department of Transportation, it is illegal to fish from any state highway bridge. That includes the Bay St. Louis bridge on Highway 90.

The ordinance was enacted on Nov. 13, 2001. The complete text of the law reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to fish from any bridge owned or operated by the Mississippi Department of Transportation Commission or the Mississippi Department of Transportation which is opened to and used for vehicular traffic. The violation of this ordinance shall constitute a misdemeanor as authorized by Section 65-1-8, Mississippi Code Annotation, and shall be punishable as provided by Section 99-19-31, Mississippi Code Annotation."

Enforcement of this ordinance is the responsibility of local law enforcement agencies. In this case the Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian police departments.

This code only applies to state highway bridges. Bridges on county or city roads are exempt from this ordinance.

Local shrimpers pooled say they would favor a similar program for local shrimping areas. "It's only fair if the half mile area is open over there, that it should be open here," shrimper J.T. ## Waveland musician takes children, adult students on global 'musical express'

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Richard Graham will be the first to tell you that he is not a starving musician. With degrees or studies in cultural anthropology, art, music, and cultural musicology, Graham has turned his passion for world music into a respectable living that has allowed he and wife Theresa to live a comfortable life.

Graham now spends his days traveling around Mississippi entertaining children and adults in conjunction with his affiliation with the Mississippi Arts Commission. Graham is also a member of Hancock County, The Arts. The Grahams recently moved to Waveland from Memphis, TN where he was affiliated with the Tennessee Arts Commission.

He and his wife made the decision to settle here after a visit to Second Saturday two years ago landed them at Serenity Gallery.

"Someone handed us a glass of wine and everyone made us feel welcome," he said. "And we love the ecological beauty and the great arts community. The strong sense of community and values appealed to us."

During his career, Graham has taught everything from drum circles to college classes. He loves working with children and has worked to develop programs for them that are both fun and educational. He can turn a demonstration of African music into both a math lesson and cultural lesson. One of his favorite programs for schools takes students on a "musical express" that begins in Africa and ends in Brazil, with the Islands and some U.S. sounds thrown in between. Graham explains how unique musical sounds develop in each area he visits.

His programs, he says, give children with different learning styles the chance to explore other ways of learning besides memorizing material. The children can see, touch, and experience the lesson. For instance, a lesson on the solar system may be taught showing the class a picture, or the solar system may be explained by letting each child play the part of a planet or moons to show how the system is laid out and how it moves.

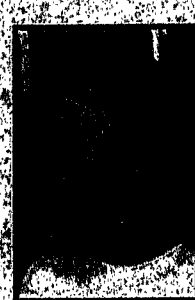

Everyone learns differently, says Graham. Math lessons may be

What's Not A Pig From Guinea?

One of the most delightful of domestic pets is the guinea pig, or cavy, as it is properly called. Not related to pigs at all, cavy is cousins to chinchillas and porcupines, and originated in the Andes mountain region of South America.

Domestic cavy come in a wide variety of colors and coat types. Some have long hair that grows in swirling "rosettes" and resemble dust mops, others are short, shiny coats. They may be solid colored, or attractively marked in a combination of several colors. One type even has color points of their face and feet similar to Siamese cats. Cavy are sturdy, docile animals, rarely attempting to bite even if frightened making them ideal pets for children. They will become extremely tame if handled gently, and vocalize in a pleasant series of whistles, squeals, and purrs. The squeal is somewhat pig-like, hence the popular name.

Cavy may be kept in enclosures of wire, durable plastic, or glass. Cages should have a solid bottom, as wire mesh flooring can cause foot infections and injuries to cavy. Remember that any wood used in cage construction must be inaccessible to your guinea pig, like all rodents they will chew wood. Bedding may be wood shavings, but don't use red cedar, it smells great but can be irritating or toxic to small animals. When purchasing food, be certain to choose a mix specifically for guinea

Tigers crank up b-ball action; Hawks roll in jr. high football

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

As the football season begins to wane, it gives way to the hardwood. A few teams have already hit the floor with the rest starting this weekend.

The Bay High Lady Tigers hit the court running with a season-opening 67-43 win over the Lady Panthers of Petal on the road on Saturday, October 30th.

Kendra Reed, who recently committed to USM, tallied an all-around performance scoring 24 points, grabbing 11 rebounds, ripping 6 steals and dishing out 4 assists. Younger sister, Tamara, led the Lady Tigers with 28 points. Destiny Porter led the team with 13 rebounds.

The Lady Tigers (1-0) were the state runner-up in 2004.

Also, on Saturday, the OLA Crescents opened their season with a 50-31 loss to the St. John Lady Eagles.

The two teams battled in the first half with St. John claiming a slim 22-21 lead at the break before pulling away.

Whitney Lyons led OLA (0-1) with 15 points.

The Bay High Tigers (1-0) opened their season with a 58-49 win over George County in the Perry Central tournament on Saturday. Braxton Rockwell led Bay High with 24 points followed by George Easley with 13 points and Joseph Yates with nine points.

The Tigers advance to second round action on Thursday, November 4th at 5:15pm against Stone County.

In junior high football action, the Hancock Middle School Hawks claimed a 20-0 shutout win over PRC in recent action. Josh Jackson ran for 85 yards to lead Hancock, he scored on a 15-yard run. Jesse Young scored from two yards out and Keagon Gillihan added a 50-yard scoring romp for Hancock whose record is now 5-3.

Last week, the Hancock Middle School Hawks recorded two wins over the Bay Middle School Tigers 6-0 and 30-14.

In the first game, Josh Jackson's scored the only points of the game and rushed for 55 yards.

In the next game, Jackson added 105 yards rushing and scored twice on runs of 1-yard and 15 yards.

Larry King went to the airwaves and connected with Russell Simmons for a 20-yard scoring pass. King also added 65 yards rushing including a 5-yard rushing touchdown. Jeffrey Smith added a 2-point conversion in the game.

The staff commented on the solid play of the offensive line of Steven Keatley.

PRCC sweeps Delgado

Pearl River Community College tipped off its 2004-2005 women's and men's basketball seasons with a bang, Tuesday, sweeping Delgado of New Orleans.

The defending MACJC state champ Wildcats rolled to a convincing 86-72 victory behind the impressive collegiate debut by freshman Alton Robinson who bucketed 26 points and hauled in 14 rebounds, both game-high totals, while the Lady Wildcats opened with a 74-49 demolition of the Lady Dolphins.

PRCC's women and men both improved to 1-0 overall, while DCC's teams dropped to 0-1.

In men's action, the Dolphins kept it close in the first half, going up on the Wildcats four different times before freshman Jeremy Holder hit a bucket 1:45 before the intermission to give PRCC a 26-25 edge. Robinson followed with a slam dunk, then sophomore Jason Simmons sank a pair of foul shots with a second remaining to make it 30-25 PRCC at the half.

Back-to-back buckets by Robinson to open the second half put the Wildcats up by nine, then sophomore point Gabe Willis of St. Stanislaus scored to pump PRCC's lead to 38-27 before the Dolphins went on an impressive 14-3 run to tie it up at 41-41 off Joe Comardelle's lay up with 13:15 left.

A minute-and-a-half later, DCC's Clifton Warren hit a free throw to snap a 43-43 deadlock and give the Dolphins a one-point edge. The lead exchanged hands twice over the next minute with Delgado grabbing its largest lead of the night, 49-45, off Craig Tearney's trey at the 10:40 mark. Wildcat freshman Terry Wade answered with a pair of free throws, then Robinson's slam tied it up at 49-49.

Freshman Marquez Singleton of Bay High snapped the stalemate at the 8:38 mark with his only three pointer of the night to make it 52-49 and the rest was downhill for the visitors. Singleton's trey kicked off a dominating 34-23 Wildcat run to end the game.

Besides Robinson, who also had four assists, Holder added 16 points, Wade, Singleton, and Willis, nine a piece; Laron Magee, seven, Mitchell five, and Simmons, Derrick Cook and Thomas Fraise, two a piece. Willis also had a game-high five steals for the Wildcats and four assists.

The Pearl River women dominated from the opening tip off, building a 16-point lead in the first five minutes and leading 38-19 at the half. PRCC outscored DCC 36-30 in the second half.

Freshman forward Vontrese Smith led the Lady Wildcats with 17 points and 13 rebounds, both game-high totals, while Yolanda Hartfield added 14 points, grabbed seven boards, and dished out six assists. Cicely Tatum scored 10, Carmen Labat of Bay High (one trey) and Lauren Griffith, nine each; Lamitra Daggs of New Orleans four (five rebounds, five assists), Brittany Blackston, Nikki Smith, and Ashley Jones, three a piece; Mashana Bonner, two.

PRCC hosts MACJC non-division rival Mississippi Delta Thursday at 5 p.m. (women) and 7 p.m. (men), then travels to East Mississippi in Scooba Monday for 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. women's and men's non-division contests.

Bay & St. Stanislaus prepare for first-round playoff games

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers advanced to the state playoffs as the #4 seed from Division 8-4A despite getting blanked 34-0 by Vanceville last Friday. The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws erupted for 24 unanswered points in the second half to dispose of the D'Iberville Warriors 38-7 on Senior Night. The Hancock Hawks fell to the #3-ranked Meridian Wildcats 41-0 and the Pass Christian Pirates ended 2004 winless with a 43-14 loss to Pearl River Central.

The Bay High Tigers, D'Iberville Warriors and the East Central Hornets were all tied in Division 8-4A competition at the end of 2004 with a record of 2-4. However, Bay High won the final playoff spot through a point system and will hit the road this Friday against the George County Rebels (9-1) in the first round of the state playoffs. The Rebels are the Division 7-4A champions and ranked #10 in the state. George County features one of the most explosive players in the state in Co-Eric Riley.

On Friday, the #19-ranked Vanceville Bulldogs (8-2), rolled to a 34-0 shutout win at Bay High (5-5). The Bulldogs used a powerful running game with Matt Sloan and Johnny Peterson to score in each quarter in the win. The Bulldogs led 24-0 at halftime.

The Bulldogs' defense also came through with a solid effort holding the Tigers to minus three yards rushing.

The Tigers' game on Friday at George County is set for 7pm.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (8-1) ended the 2004 regular season with a 38-7 win over the D'Iberville Warriors (4-5) on Senior Night. The Rocks held a slim 14-7 lead at halftime but erupted for 24 second half points.

Lance Cuevas connected with Stefan Sofianos for a 39-yard scoring pass early in the game and J.C. Brignone plunged in from three yards out to give SSC a 14-0 lead after the first quarter of play. Sofianos finished the game with five catches for 148 yards and two touchdowns.

Cuevas threw for 225 yards on 10-of-25 passing to set the single-season passing mark. He currently has 1,800 yards passing in 2004 breaking the previous mark of 1,635 yards set by Jason Santiago in 2000.

D'Iberville scored their only touchdown of the night on a 32-yard pass play midway through the second quarter.

Jordan Ellis opened the scoring barrage in the second half with a 3-yard run followed by a 28-yard field goal by Bryce Morreale.

In the final quarter, Cuevas hit Sofianos for a 59-yard scoring pass and Josh Duplessis added a 62-yard scoring run. Cuevas now has 21 passing touchdowns on the season. Duplessis eclipsed 1,000 yards for the season rushing nine times for 2,000 yards and a score. Duplessis has rushed for 1,047 yards in 2004 and has a streak of seven consecutive 100-yard games.

Michael Cure set another career mark at SSC with his four catches and 59 yards against D'Iberville. Cure, the all-time leading receiver in yardage at SSC, set a new mark for career receptions. He now has 95 catches in his career surpassing the previous record of 93 set by Gabe Willis in 2002.

Defensively, the Rocks held the Warriors to just 19 yards rushing in the game to push their streak to eight consecutive games of holding an opponent below 100 yards rushing. Lee Klein led the way for SSC with 14 total tackles followed by Jordan Ellis and David Grapusa with seven tackles each. Brett Bentz anchored a defensive front with seven tackles including three quarterback sacks while J.C. Brignone added six tackles and a fumble recovery.

The Rocks will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils (6-4) in the first round of the state playoffs on Friday evening. The Blue Devils, #4 seed from Division 7-4A, are led by running back Seth Hayden who has turned heads in 2004 with his 2,345 yards rushing. Game time in between the walls is set for 7pm.

The Hancock Hawks (1-9) were not able to get anything going against the #3-ranked Meridian Wildcats (8-0-1) in their 41-0 loss.

Hancock managed just 29 yards of total offense. Andrew Smith picked 36 yards on six carries to lead Hancock. John Lacoste added eight tackles on the defensive side of the ball for Hancock.

Hancock will host Hattiesburg (7-3) to close the season on Friday evening. Game time at Hawk Stadium/Brett Favre Field is set for 7:30pm.

The Pass Christian Pirates (0-10) ended the 2004 season with a 43-14 loss to the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

Seth Hayden, PRC's workhorse running back, rushed for 208 yards on 14 carries and five touchdowns in the game.

PRC jumped out to an 8-0 lead but Pass Christian fought right back. Jaren Bowser scored from one yard out to cut the lead to 8-6. The score by Bowser was set up by a Chad Moore pass of 23 yards to Aaron Saucier. The two-point conversion failed and that was as close as the Pirates would come.

The Pirates lose just four players to graduation giving coach Kelly Causey a great nucleus to work with in 2005. The Blue Devils are traveling to SSC for a state playoff game against the Rocks in the Brother Phillip Memorial Athletic Complex.

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #10 is SSC's Lance Cuevas who set a new single-season passing record at SSC with his 225 yards on 10-for-25 passing and two scores in the Rocks 38-7 win over D'Iberville. He currently has 1,800 yards passing which eclipsed former Rock great Jason Santiago's mark of 1,635 yards set in 2000.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #10 is SSC's Brett Bentz who recorded seven total tackles including three quarterback sacks for a loss of 23 yards and one quarterback hurry in the Rocks' win over D'Iberville.

for industrial development of Hancock County were initiated by the local acquisition committee of the Port and Harbor Commission Monday. The Port officials met with representatives of International Paper Company at the IP office in Pass Christian to explore the topic as about 95% of the acres for the area proposed for industry is owned by the paper company. Attending on behalf of the Port Commission were Arlie Strain, Dr. A.K. Martinolich and Joseph V. Colson. They were appointed to the land acquisition committee at the commission's October meeting.

The New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra, with Warner Torkanowsky conducting, will make its first appearance in Bay St. Louis Monday with two concerts scheduled in Bay High gymnasium. The New Orleans symphony is recognized as one of the 10 finest orchestras in the nation and has appeared in nearly every major city of the country and 21 foreign nations.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
October 28, 1954 - Brother Theophane Alles, S.V.D., is the only Divine Word Missionary Brother now in the Southland to mark 25 years in religious life. A celebration will be held on November 1st at St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis.

Hancock County along with the rest of Mississippi is going to take a beating on its pecan crop this year. A check with Howard Simmons, County Agent here, reveals pecan production will be about 26% of last year's crop. This means that pecans are not a major money crop in the county, the off-season fall income from pecans which has been putting holiday money in the pockets of growers will be practically nil.

National Guard Physical. (Photo). Robert Lacoste of Kiln is shown as he is given a physical by Dr. Charles Wascom before he can be sworn into the newly formed National Guard Unit, Irving Kingston, a lieutenant looks on.

Lester Seal was named the toll collector of the year of the Bay St. Louis Highway Bridge. This honor is awarded to the man who has the least of mistakes during the year. Each month the records are tabulated and the many having the least mistakes is notified.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
November 3, 1944 - Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Baxter of New Orleans, were appraised by wire on Tuesday from the War Department that their son, Lt. Herman M. Baxter, Army, was killed in action on October 16 in Germany. Lt. Baxter arrived overseas in August has been in England, France, Holland and Germany. He was the second son of the Baxters and has three brothers in service. His oldest Lionel Frances Baxter, Navy, another brother Joseph Clay Baxter, Jr., Army, is as many of you know, a prisoner of war since the fall of Corregidor. He is known to his friends as "J.C." The youngest brother, Pvt. First Class John W. Baxter, Army, is overseas. He is known here by friends as Jack Baxter.

Lt. Baxter was a nephew of Mrs. John Weston, Mrs. Leo W. Seal and Mrs. Ella Mayben.

Private Paul Schultz, U.S. Army, age 33, was killed in action somewhere in France. Former resident of Bay St. Louis, and brother of Mrs. Wallace R. Sylvester. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, also his parents, all residing in New Orleans.

With the Americal (Correct) Infantry Division somewhere in the South Pacific, Pfc. Earl H. Luxich, brother of Mrs. Vivian Carver of Bay St. Louis, has left for the U.S. on rotation policy after spending 30 months in the Southwest Pacific Area. Luxich served as a cannoneer during the Guadalcanal campaign and also on the Bougainville campaign as a cook. He is able to wear two battle stars on his Atlantic-Pacific campaign ribbon, as well as other ribbons received. Luxich is noted for his drawings which decorate many of his buddies' tents. Being able to b three different languages, he has had no trouble getting acquainted with people of different islands he has visited. In civilian life, Luxich was a truck driver.

Graham -- musical express

taught in terms of musical rhythms. The arts can bring experimental learning into the classroom and allow the children to use all their senses for learning. In this way, children remember more.

"I am really a teacher who plays music," said Graham. "I consider myself a community musician and also may play weddings, festivals, churches or other events."

It is a humble profession Graham says, but he loves the music in his life. Still, he has managed to make a living with his music since his late 20's, around 20 years ago. Jazz and world music are his favorite mediums, but he is skilled in most aspects of musical expression. He likes music that gets people up and moving, he says.

"I think people are looking to get away from all the electronics and DJ's and hear a real musician and live music," said Graham.

Before landing in the southern part of the country, Graham spent years working as a musician in his native New York as well as in Los Angeles and San Francisco. In those places he played in bands, worked on commercials, and later taught at the world music institute in Marin County in California.

The Chekere is from Nigeria, West Africa, and is also played in Cuba and Brazil. It is basically a decorated gourd and used as a type of rattle.

He returned to New York and released a tape called The Poetry of Music. Since then, Graham has made other tapes and c.d.'s. The biggest change he says he has seen in recording is that electronics has taken over the part of the musician. Musicians used to record and a recording would be natural, done by trial and error, just people having a good time, he said, and a mistake or two might be made. Now, Graham says, much recording is done by a technique called sampling. A musician does not even have to be present for the studio to complete a recording.

Graham says he feels that the technique of sampling, though it may produce more perfect recordings, to a large extent takes the human feel out of the music.

"We may have hit a wrong note, but that is a part of it, the human part of it," he said. "The communication when the music is live is great. I love to see people get up and dance to my music. In that communication you learn something from the listeners and they will learn something from you."

The business aspect of the music, he says he learned from Theresa. To turn your art into a business is an effort Graham says. You have to be reliable. When you say 8 p.m. that does not mean 8:15 p.m. It means you are there well before 8 p.m. and ready to go at 8 p.m. It also means you give the people what they want and expect. You are properly dressed for the gig, and there is no alcohol or drug use. Many musicians have ruined careers because of that kind of abuse, Graham said. Music is a gift from God, a spiritual force, he said, and should be treated as such.

And Graham loves to put on a show. "I'm not afraid to wear a costume or joke or talk," he said. "I like to be an all around entertainer."

To arrange a performance contact Graham at 469-0742 or e-mail him at rgrahamproductions@yahoo.com.

Pig -- not from Guinea

pigs. Although rabbit food looks the same, cavy is unable to produce their own vitamin C. Rabbit formulas do not provide this added nutrient needed to prevent scurvy in guinea pigs. A small amount of high quality hay daily will give your cavy important roughage, and hand feeding a few pieces of fruits and vegetables will help your cavy look forward to seeing you! You should also provide some non-toxic wood for your cavy to gnaw on, this will help prevent teeth from over growing.

Males or females make equally good pets. If you keep more than one guinea pig, remember that two males will likely fight, and need to be kept in separate enclosures. Also, cavy can breed as young as 4 weeks of age!

Baby guinea pigs are adorable, born fully haired with open eyes, they run and cavort like kittens just hours after birth. But unless you have homes for babies, breeding should be prevented by separating sexes.

For more information about these charming little animals, check out the American Cavy Breeders Association at acba.osb-land.com.

Crystal Gayle Performs at Bay Magic She's more than Loretta Lynn's little sister. She's more than just those trademark long tresses. She's Crystal Gayle, the country and gospel singing legend who made all our "brown eyes blue" with her beautiful voice in the late 70's.
Gayle is scheduled to perform two shows at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Friday and Saturday November 19 & 20 at 9 p.m. Tickets are available for $14.95, $19.95 and $24.95 and may be purchased through the Casino

Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster
outlet.

The youngest of eight children, Gayle grew up in Kentucky's Appalachian coal mining country. She signed her first recording contract while still in high school and has been performing for over 25 years. A Grammy Award winner,
Gayle has produced a dozen albums with hits that include: "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue," "Wrong
Road Again," "I'll Get Over
You," "You and I," and many more.

When not touring, Gayle can be found at home in Nashville with her husband Bill Gatzimos and her two children - Catherine and Chris. She also owns an upscale boutique called
"Crystal's" that sells gift items and fine jewelry.

Don't miss Crystal Gayle, November 19 & 20, at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis!
Must be at least 21 to attend.

Ann-Margret A Singular Sensation at Bay Magic Sultry Swede screen legend, Ann-Margret performs two shows Thanksgiving weekend, November 26 &
27, at Casino Magic Bay St.
Louis. The shows start at 9 p.m. and tickets are available for: $24.95, $29.95 &

$34.95 through the Casino
Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or
through any Ticketmaster
outlet.

Born, Ann-Margret
Ollsen in Stockholm,
Sweden in 1941, she immigrated to the United States with her mother in 1946 and settled in the Chicago area.

By 1960, the vivacious, 19 year-old redhead was cast in George Burns' Las Vegas show and performed only ten times before she was spotted by Twentieth Century Fox and asked to do a screen test. This led to a recording career and roles in the hit films, "State Fair,"
"Bye, Bye Birdie,"
"Cincinnati Kid," "Viva Las Vegas," "Tommy," "Carnal Knowledge," and many more. Her latest big screen role has been opposite the late Walter Mathau and Jack Lemmon in "Grumpy Old Men," and its sequel
"Grumpier Old Men."

Over the last 45 years,
Ann-Margret has recorded over a dozen albums, appeared in over 47 films,
been nominated for numerous Emmy Awards, a Golden Globe and twice for an Academy Award as well as performing on stage and television.

Don't miss Ann-Margret
at Casino Magic Bay St.
Louis, November 26 & 27!
Must be at least 21 to attend.
